

The enterprise web platform for organizations that want to move fast

Give every internal team a fast, on-brand way to launch and manage websites, while corporate keeps branding, governance and security in one place.

As your web portfolio grows, the same three problems show up:

Launches wait in the queue

Campaign pages, regional sites and legal updates sit in agency or IT queues, so new websites take months and miss the moment they were built for.

Every team builds differently

Teams request, build and update sites their own way, so the same content gets rebuilt and brand standards are hard to enforce.

No view of the whole portfolio

Ownership is fragmented across regions and departments, so it's hard to see what's live and keep it secure and compliant.

For more info, visit:
<https://www.wix.com/studio/enterprise/company-websites>

One platform for every website your teams launch

Wix Enterprise pairs approved templates and shared content with centralized governance, so teams launch on their own schedule and every site stays on brand.

Launch from approved templates

Custom templates carry your brand and design guardrails, so teams launch fully branded sites in minutes instead of waiting on developers.

One source of truth

Shared CMS collections and brand kits keep catalogs, disclaimers, colors and typography in one place, and updates reach every connected site.

Control what goes live

Approval workflows and granular roles and permissions decide who can edit, approve and publish, so teams move fast without off-brand surprises.

Enterprise-grade security

SSO, SCIM provisioning, IP allowlisting, activity logs and a 99.99% uptime SLA protect every site in the portfolio.

One dashboard for the portfolio

Manage sites, domains and routing from the enterprise dashboard, and track sessions, sales and orders across every site in one view.

Dedicated support and success

Qualifying accounts get a named Customer Success Manager plus 24/7 priority access to solution engineers. Escalations go to senior agents, response times are faster, and your CSM stays in the loop. Specific SLAs are defined in your contract.

Build any type of website your business needs

Brand and sub-brand websites.
Regional and country websites.
Internal employee hubs.

Campaign and event microsites.
New business unit sites. All on one platform.

For more info, visit:
<https://www.wix.com/studio/enterprise/company-websites>